Seniors, Caregivers Invited to Senior Expo Information on Prescription Drug Plans, Services for Seniors Offered

LOWER PROVIDENCE – Lower Providence seniors and caregivers trying to sort out the issues surrounding Medicare's prescription drug program are invited to a "Senior Expo" to be hosted by Lower Providence Township on April 10. Insurance counselors from the state Department of Aging will be available to explain the prescription program and answer your specific questions. Enrollment specialists will be on site for anyone who wishes to enroll in a prescription plan that day.

The Expo will be held at the Arcola Intermediate School, 4000 Eagleville Road, Eagleville, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Information on a wide variety of local services and topics of interest to seniors will be offered. Complimentary refreshments and a light lunch will be provided for attendees. Door prizes will be awarded. Due to the nature of the program, children are not permitted at the event.

Many Montgomery County organizations are partnering with Lower Providence Township for the Expo to offer:

- Blood pressure screenings
- Exercise and health information
- Senior-education opportunities
- Utility assistance
- Library programs
- Financial planning

Seniors also will have the opportunity to have a nurse review their medications for possible harmful interaction. In addition, local elected officials or their representatives will provide information on opportunities and services that are available locally to senior citizens and/or their caregivers.
