

New Facility Brings Jobs, Comprehensive Rehab Services to Township

LOWER PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP (August 15, 2016) - Lower Providence Township is excited to announce the opening of a unique rehabilitation facility that brings hundreds of jobs to the Township and offers community residents the opportunity to recuperate close to home. Rehab at Shannondell, which opened in July, provides the orthopedic and medical rehabilitation services you'd expect from a quality facility in a decidedly unexpected resort-style setting.

The new skilled nursing facility is located within the gated

Shannondell community. Patients recovering from surgery, temporary illness or a medical condition are supported by a dedicated staff providing physical, occupational and speech therapy services. Cardiac rehab is provided through an innovative partnership with Cardiology Consultants of Philadelphia (CCP).

Together with The Meadows, an existing personal care building on the campus, Rehab at Shannondell will employ over 325 full-time positions. Both facilities are open to the public and Rehab at Shannondell will accept most major insurance plans.

The therapists, clinicians and staff of Rehab at Shannondell are focused on making sure patients enjoy their rehab experience while working toward returning to independent living. "Our goal is to have patients recover well and return home stronger," says William Ross, Chief Operating Officer. A comfortable environment, he notes, is critical to a successful recovery. To that end, Rehab at Shannondell offers a resort-like setting and amenities, including private rooms and baths, table service dining, large living room areas and outdoor courtyards. Each floor has its own therapy center, social and dining areas, and activity room.

Ross reminds those needing rehab after surgery or an illness that they have choices. The distinctive Rehab at Shannondell (rehabatshannondell.com) may be a convenient option for local residents. He suggests discussing the possibility with their physician prior to a medical procedure and the discharge planner at the hospital after.

With Rehab at Shannondell now serving therapy and long-term living needs of patients of all ages, The Meadows will focus solely on providing personal care and expanded memory care services. Two different price points for personal care are now available, said Ross, including a more affordable option with the same level of service.

The new rehab center and the enhanced Meadows building join the Shannondell retirement community itself as exceptional resources for Lower Providence. Benefits for Township residents include not only the comprehensive services available, but also a significant tax contribution and the support of local businesses.
